TaylorMade and MD Golf launch sexy new putter ranges

MD Golf

MD Golf is making some class gear these days. We loved the NV Drew wedges and the latest woods and irons are a massive improvement on previous models. And the latest range of putters from the Northern Ireland-based firm look a bit special too...

MD Golf says: "The NV Drew (named after Norman Drew who played in the 1959 Ryder Cup) putters are CNC milled from a solid block of carbon steel. It's a similar story with the Seve Icon range; these four putters are finished in "black gold" to provide the ultimate in feel and stunning looks. This half-mallet is named St Andrews 1984 after Seve's famous victory at The Open."

TG says: "It wasn't long ago that few people had heard of MD Golf: now they're right up there challenging the most established names in the industry. Both the Seve Icon and the NV Drew putters are top, top drawer. The fact there are four models in the Icon range and six in the NV Drew series mean you WILL find a putter you love. Great performance and stunning looks at a superb price."

Prices: NV Drew £69.99, Seve Icon £89.95.

Available: February 2009.

Black is back

The NV Drew putters have a classy finish.

Soft feel

The putters are milled from a solid block of carbon steel.

TaylorMade

A brand-new line of putters designed by master putter craftsman Kia Ma give these ultra premium putters real kick. The initial range consists of five familiar shapes, including the Daytona and Monte Carlo (pictured). Monaco and Imola blades and Imola and Maranello versions are also available. The Rossa TP KiaMa putters are 100 per cent CNC milled from soft, forged 1020 carbon steel and completed with a sleek midnight black finish. Daytona and Monaco both have small tungsten weights in the heel and toe for increased stability.

TaylorMade says: "Rossa TP by Kia Ma putters are guaranteed to appeal to the purist who loves classic design and flawless execution," said Bill Price, TaylorMade's senior director of putter creation. "Every surface is satiny smooth and every curve and corner is perfectly rendered. When you pick one of them up you realise right away the person who created it is someone special."

TG says: "These are sexier than Kylie in her shortest hot pants! These will turn heads and we love the attention to detail, especially on the beautiful milled face. Even more importantly, they provide a super soft, pure feel and put a sweet roll on the ball."

Price: £219 Weight: 345g Loft: 3.5° Length: 33in, 34in, 35in. Left-handed: Daytona only

History made

The half-mallet is inspired by Seve's 1984 Open win.
