

CLEVELAND

CG14

Gelback technology is placed behind the hitting area to remove unwanted vibrations on mis-hits. Grooves are milled to maximum dimensions for control.

JEREMY ELLWOOD: Liked the feel though not so keen on the rear view. Longer than others, but not as much check from sand.

TALKING POINTS

- GREAT FEEL: The CG14 received consistently high marks from our testers for the feel it provided.
- YELLOW INSERT: It may have improved feel, but the bright yellow insert in the back of the club was too much aesthetically for some.

MACGREGOR

MT Pro

Designed to offer versatility thanks to a slightly onset, curved leading edge. The sole is relieved in the heel and toe to help on shots with an open face.

JEREMY ELLWOOD: Good compact shape. Too heavy a head for me on full swings, but great for feel and bunker shots.

TALKING POINTS

- HEAVY HEAD: This weighty head seemed to make full shots difficult to control for all.
- IMPRESSIVE AROUND THE GREEN: Testers were complimentary about the performance on chip shots from close range.

MD GOLF

Superstrong Players

The face of this cobalt wedge is CNC milled, which provides a rough face. This is designed to help produce high levels of spin on all types of shot.

JEREMY ELLWOOD: Sat well and a nice finish. Ungrooved area of the toe was a touch big for me visually. Loads of spin.
