

MD Golf Superstrong GM £299 S £399 G

TG rating: ★★★★★ - A must buy

We've awarded the Superstrong GMs our Best Better Player award, but they're not just aimed at the single-figure golfer. They bear all the features a better player (16 handicapper and below) would love.

There's less offset, because more accomplished golfers don't need so much help to square the face at impact. The soles aren't as wide as a standard game-improvement set, meaning decent players can nip shots cleanly from all different types of lies. And an anti-glare finish, which rusts with time, is something that, until a few years ago, would have been seen only on a Tour player's clubs.

The set goes from 3-iron to pitching wedge, so if your game needs rescue-style long irons, the GMs aren't the set for you.

But if you are a consistent ball striker, you'll enjoy hitting the beautifully designed and finished heads. Our test pro couldn't tell from hitting shots if the heads were forged or not, so expect bundles of feel.

Just don't forget the heads will rust with time. Leave them wet in the car boot for a week, and you can expect orange rust spots to appear by the time you next play.

All perfectly natural, but if it bothers you, we recommend trying another of our selections.
